

CALIFORNIA FOOD + FARMING NETWORK

Food & Farm Scorecard 2024

The California Food and Farming Network (CFFN) envisions an inclusive, equitable, and ecologically regenerative food and farming system that has recognized and repaired injustices to Black, Indigenous and people of color workers, producers and communities, and which generates healthy, affordable, accessible, nutritious and culturally appropriate food and other agricultural products.

CFFN is a network of more than 50 members across the state, building a movement centered on racial equity to transform the food and farming system through state policies.

Despite another year of a state budget deficit, the food and farming sector held on to important programs, moved multi-year efforts across the finish line, and even achieved several wins on new concepts. At the same time, multiple critical programs were denied at the final hour, and a once-in-a-career legislative revision fell short.

Of our 10 priority bills this year, 50% crossed this year's finish line—one of the highest rates of success since the Covid-19 pandemic—4 were vetoed by the Governor and one did not meet its full potential. It's become clear that our network has the mobilization power to anchor and expand on policies even in moments of deep financial scarcity.

Starting with the wins for our food system laborers: Our state's farmworkers can now use their sick days during state or locally-recognized weather emergencies such as heat, smoke, and flooding, ensuring the safety of these essential workers. In a different sector of the food chain, grocery employees now must be given advanced notice before a store's planned permanent closure. This allows workers to plan ahead and secure new jobs. These closure notifications extend to community members so that residents can likewise plan for alternative places to buy groceries.

Ending hunger in California is a multi-pronged issue. While great strides were achieved this year, others were stalled. A new policy now allows people who are released from jails and prisons to be enrolled more quickly into CalFresh. Additionally, California became the first state to ban "sell by" dates on food, which will reduce food waste and support dignity in food access. However, the Governor declined an expansion of medically supportive food and nutrition interventions through MediCal and rejected a bill requiring the state to build a task force to develop a cross-sector food system plan to end hunger in California.

Of course, food access cannot be addressed without supporting the farmers that grow our food. For the second year in a row, the Governor blocked the creation of a farmer equipment-sharing program and declined improvements to CDFAs' keystone Healthy Soils Program. Fortunately, the legislature included robust food and farm resilience investments in a state climate bond that voters approved in the form of Proposition 4.

Lastly, the legislature and Governor approved an increase and revisions to the pesticide mill fee, which came with some improvements, but ultimately this once-in-a-generation overhaul of the mill fee fails to incentivize the use of less hazardous pesticides and upholds the conflict of interest inherent in funding the Department of Pesticide Regulation with a tax on pesticide sales.

As the legislature has another large cohort beginning in 2025, and many of our long-term legislative champions term out, it's paramount that food and farming issues continue to be prioritized. Food is a human right and our communities deserve to thrive.

CFFN'S Commitment to Racial Equity:

CFFN believes that a food and farming system that is not just, equitable, and inclusive is unsustainable, and in order to create the food and farming system that the world needs, it is imperative that we dismantle oppression and work towards racial equity. We believe that public policy has played a central role in institutionalizing racism, and must be used to dismantle it. Advancing policies that center racial equity and are rooted in the lived experiences of impacted communities is an essential strategy for transforming systems and creating lasting change. Regional Food System Resilience

AB 408 (Wilson) – Food & Agriculture Climate Resilience Bond - Support

Initial vehicle that propelled over $1 billion in investments in food and farming programs and infrastructure being placed in front of California voters in the form of Proposition 4, Climate Bond, to strengthen our food and farming system across agriculture, farmworkers, healthy and culturally relevant food access, and regional food economies.

Passed by the Legislature, signed by the Governor, voted into law by California voters

AB 1961 (Wicks) – End Hunger in California Act of 2024 - Support

Would have created a task force of state and community representatives to develop a strategic master plan aimed at ending hunger in CA through intersectional lenses.

Vetoed by the Governor

AB 2313 (Bennett) – Regional Farmer Equipment & Cooperative Resources Assistance Pilot Program - Support

Would have established a program at the California Department of Food and Agriculture to fund resource conservation districts, County agricultural commissioners, University of California Cooperative Extensions, tribal entities, and nonprofits serving small, socially disadvantaged and/or limited resource farmers to create or expand equipment sharing programs and fund cooperative development to help farmers to access the equipment needed to implement agroecological practices.

Vetoed by the Governor

Food sovereignty: All people have the right to healthy and culturally appropriate food produced through ecologically sound methods, and to define and prosper in their own food and agriculture systems.

Shared Economic Prosperity: All people have equitable opportunity to fully participate and build wealth in the food and farming system, contributing their food and ag cultures, knowledge and skills to strengthen and diversify opportunities and build resilience for all.

Improved Access to Healthy Food

AB 660 (Irwin) – Food Expiration Date Reform - Support

Implements the industry's suggested best practices to require food manufacturers to use uniform terminology to decrease food waste up and down the supply chain. The bill mandates the use of "Best if Used By" for quality and "Use By" for safety dates labels.

Passed by the Legislature and signed by the Governor

AB 1975 (Bonta) – Medically Supportive Food and Nutrition - Support

Would have transitioned food-based interventions from pilot to permanent Medi-Cal benefits and would have launched an advisory workgroup to support the writing of related regulations.

Vetoed by the Governor

SB 1254 (Becker) – Thriving Transitions: Food for Re-Entry and Ensuring Stable Homes (FRESH) Act - Support

Allows incarcerated people to apply for CalFresh benefits before their release to better prepare them for reentry, delays the name matching that disqualifies individuals up to 5 months, and creates a workgroup within the Department of Social Services to begin making recommendations for a holistic approach to a statewide reentry process.

Passed by the Legislature and signed by the Governor

Food is a Human Right: All communities have access to the nutritious, affordable, culturally appropriate, and traditional food they need to thrive.

Farmworker and Food Chain Worker Advancement

SB 1089 (Smallwood-Cuevas) – Grocery and Pharmacy Closure Notice - Support

Mitigates the harms of abrupt disruptions in access to food and prescription medication, especially in under-resourced communities. It requires 45-day advance notifications, for establishments not covered under the Worker Adjustment and Retraining Notification Act, to affected communities, employees, and other stakeholders, before the closure of a grocery store or pharmacy.

Passed by the Legislature and signed by the Governor

SB 1105 (Padilla) – Leave for Farmworkers During Climate Emergencies - Support

Requires that paid sick leave granted to agricultural employees can also be utilized to avoid smoke, heat, or flooding conditions created by a local or state emergency, allowing workers to avoid personal financial ruin when they need to stay home from work for their safety.

Passed by the Legislature and signed by the Governor

CFFN provides backbone support for the California Farmworker Coalition (formerly the Farmworker Advocacy Working Group), which makes policy change for workers on the issues that are most important to them, while building the power within grassroots organizations so that farmworker communities can set the priorities of California state government on farmworker issues. Learn more here.

Empowered Workers: Workers are respected and valued as essential to the survival and health of our communities, share in the wealth of their labor, have the power to shape their working conditions and lives, and have the opportunity to become owners or prosper within the food system.

Agroecological Farming

AB 2113 (E. Garcia) – Pesticide Mill Fee - Support if Amended/Neutral Position at end

Increases the mill fee, a tax on pesticide sales that funds the Department of Pesticide Regulation (DPR), by 40%, provides partial funding for implementation of the Sustainable Pest Management Roadmap, and includes a new commitment to start one new pesticide reevaluation per year, while also making it easier to challenge permits for the use of Restricted Materials. However, this overhaul of the mill fee fails to incentivize the use of less hazardous pesticides (such as by applying a higher fee to more hazardous chemicals).

Passed by the Legislature and signed by the Governor

AB 2734 (Connolly) – Improvements to the Healthy Soil Program - Support

Would have amended CDFAs Healthy Soils Program to ensure all farmers can access it, including on-farm demonstration projects lasting up to 5 yrs, consultation with CA Organic Products Advisory Committee, advance payment rates of up to 50%, regional variations in input costs for incentive rates, and equipment sharing as an allowable cost in Climate Smart Agriculture Technical Assistance Grants program.

Vetoed by the Governor

Ecological Health: Our food and farming system is rooted in agroecological systems determined by impacted communities, shifting power away from corporate agribusiness. This means honoring Indigenous and cultural practices, and farming in harmony with nature so that people and the land are nourished and healed.

The 2024 California Food and Farm Policy Champions

California leaders have an opportunity to build the system we imagine, even in the face of threats from climate change, racial inequities, and public health crises. In fact, food and farm policies can help mitigate and transform these crises. In a Legislature with 120 elected officials, many champions for change to California's agriculture and food system are needed. This year, we recognize Assemblymember Damon Connolly and Assemblymember Mia Bonta, who are joining our growing list of honored legislators.

Assemblymember Mia Bonta

Mia Bonta was elected to the Assembly in 2021 representing California's East Bay, including Emeryville, Alameda, and a large portion of Oakland. As Chair of the Health Committee, Bonta has been a leader on policies that improve public health and address disparities in access to nutritious food. This year, she authored AB 2786 which passed as the first state law for mobile farmers' markets in the country, creating a state definition to certify mobile farmers markets and allowing them to accept WIC Farmers Market Nutrition Program Benefits. Bonta sought to make food-based health interventions a permanent solution in Medi-Cal through AB 1975, and while the Governor vetoed this bill, Bonta is committed to trying again. The Assemblymember has also been a champion of School Meals for All, leading a legislative member letter in 2024 in support of maintaining funding for the program. She has played a pivotal role in bringing food and farming issues to the California Legislative Black Caucus, advocating for policies that center racial equity and food security. Assemblymember Bonta has voted in alignment with the food movement's priorities 96.5% of the time since her time in the legislature.

Assemblymember Damon Connolly

Assemblymember Connolly was elected to the Assembly in 2022 representing Marin and parts of Sonoma County. Connolly quickly established himself as an advocate for sustainable agriculture, sitting on the Agriculture Committee and authoring a package of bills aimed at strengthening organic farming. This year he authored AB 2734 attempting to improve the Healthy Soils Program. He also passed regulations that will improve protections for children and school communities by strengthening regulations on pesticide use near schools (AB 1864), despite significant pushback from industry groups and the Department of Pesticide Regulation. Connolly was instrumental in securing funding for the California Nutrition Incentive Program (CNIP) in FY 24-25, both speaking at the Save Market Match Rally and utilizing his position in the budget subcommittee to ensure low-income families have access to fresh produce at farmers markets. Connolly spotlights farmworker and youth testimony at policy hearings and offers support of in-district policy issues, such as No on Measure J in Sonoma County and Save Marin's Food Community at the Point Reyes National Seashore. Assemblymember Connolly has voted in alignment with the food movement's priorities 100% of the time since his time in the legislature.

Outgoing Alumni Food & Farm Policy Champions

This year we say goodbye to three of our long-term food and farming champions as their state legislative careers come to an end. Collectively these leaders have passed legislation that has deeply invested in school meals, nutrition incentive programs, food security, urban agriculture, and more. We thank them for their years of service!

Senator Nancy Skinner

2021 Champion, elected in 2008

2014: AB 1930 CalFresh work exemptions for college students

2017: SB 782 School meals: California grown food

2021: SB 364 School Meals for All

2022: Continued investments in School Meals for All and SB 364 Better Out of School Time (BOOST) Nutrition Program

Ongoing: Countless food and farming budget items, including but not limited to, the largest-ever expenditure for Healthy Soils practices on farms, technical assistance for underserved farmers; training for new farmers, expanded CalFresh benefits to people currently ineligible due to immigration status, and a significant expansion of funding for the Farm to School Program, Medically Tailored Meals Programs, Child and Adult and Care Food Program.

Assemblymember Phil Ting

2016 Champion, elected in 2012

2013: AB 551 Urban Agriculture Property Tax Incentives

2014: AB 2385 Market Match Nutrition Incentive Program

2015: AB 1321 California Nutrition Incentives Act

2016: Funding for AB 1321 Nutrition Incentive Matching Grant

2017: AB 958 Hazardous Materials in food wrappers and packaging and AB 465 Urban Agriculture Incentive Zones Update

2018: AB 2335 Healthy Stores Refrigeration Grant Program

Ongoing: Countless food and farming budget items, including but not limited to, the CA Nutrition Incentive Program, Healthy Refrigeration Grant Program, multiple climate-smart ag programs, and more.

Senator Susan Eggman

2016 Champion, elected in 2012

2014: AB 2185 Bees: Foraging: State-Owned Lands

2015: AB 515 Tax Breaks for Food Bank Donations

2016: AB 1577 CalFood Program and AB 2324 Certified Farmers' Market Regulation Update

Scoring Methodology

This year, we scored 10 bills. Our scorecard considers policy committees and floor votes, equally weighted. We used the original floor votes, unless otherwise noted. Votes in alignment with a CFFN position counted towards a legislator's score, while votes contradicting a CFFN position counted against a legislator's score. Abstained votes (indicated as 'NVR') are considered a no-vote and scored in alignment with a CFFN position. A bonus point (equally weighted) is given to lead authors of a supported bill and/or budget item and subtracted for an opposed bill.

AB 408 was a 2-year bill. We did not re-score 2023 votes (they can be found in our 2023 scorecard). Many of AB 408's priority food and farm investments were ultimately included in SB 867, so the 2024 Floor votes for each house and Governor's decision were used from SB 867.

AB 660 was a 2-year bill. We did not score 2023 votes. The Assembly Floor concurrence votes were used for 2024 scoring.

AB 2113 was scored while we maintained a Support with Amendments position (through the Senate Environmental Quality Committee), but was not scored once our position changed to Neutral.

The Governor was scored on 9 pieces of legislation this year.
